

MARCH FOR SCIENCE

EARTH DAY 2017

HAWAII

Endorsement

Organizations who are committed to the role of science in advancing and improving our society are invited to endorse the March for Science. Your approval and sanction is important in helping us reach out and build a community of scientific appreciation. This not only helps ensure our march reaches its full potential, but also connects people with each other to support future efforts in science advocacy.

To endorse the March for Science, please inform a member of the March for Science organizing committee, or Helen Spafford (hspaffor@hawaii.edu), Chair of the March for Science.

Endorsing the March for Science means we can list your organization and its logo on materials associated with the March.

Sponsorship

Please consider sponsorship if you would like to augment your endorsement with financial support. Your sponsorship will help us pay for insurance and other logistics for the March.

Kanu Hawaii (kanuhawaii.org), a local non-profit, is the fiscal sponsor for March for Science. Contact Helen Spafford (hspaffor@hawaii.edu) for details on how to provide your donation.

Though our statement will be part of a national voice, our march is bred and driven by our local community. We need your help to support this celebration of science in Hawai'i and foster a more prosperous future for our 'ohana.
