

John J. Mahoney

John Joseph Mahoney, 59, died on Friday 23 November in Honolulu after a swiftly progressing illness. John was a professor emeritus and research scientist at the University of Hawaii, and a lover of the natural world. He is survived by his wife Nancy; his siblings Donna, Marla, and Tom Mahoney, and their families; and by his three WW II jeeps. John is missed and respected by family, friends and colleagues around the world. Please find more information at www.soest.hawaii.edu